County Releases Report On Lomita Incorporation

Some more facts and figures were thrown into the hot Lomita incorporation squabble, with the release of a report drafted by the management division of the administrative office of the county of Los Angeles. The figures are based on the status of Lomita as of September 30 of this year.

Approach To City Slated For Clean-Up

The unsightly Torrance Blvd. approach to the city from Western ave. will be transformed into an attractive landmark in time for the Christmas season, Don Mansfield, assistant city manager, told the City Council last week. Mansfield said that Pacific Electric had been contacted and indicated that they would clean up their right of way promptly. City crews will soon be cleaning up the city's property and help beautify the entrance as soon as they complete work in other parts of the city before the rainy season starts.

Local Chest Volunteers Plan Program

The public is invited to attend an orientation program for volunteers from all welfare agencies in the Harbor area, including Community Chest supported Red Feather agencies, scheduled from 10 a.m. until noon, Thursday, October 25, in the auditorium of Harbor General hospital. The briefing session is being sponsored jointly by the Harbor Area Welfare Planning Council and the Los Angeles Area Volunteer's Bureau, a Chest-supported agency. Guest speakers will be Ray Choate, vice president of the planning council; William H. Avarell, chairman of Harbor District Los Angeles Area Camp Fire Girls, and Mrs. Marguerite McAllister, co-ordinator of volunteers at Harbor General hospital. Volunteers are urgently needed for all Harbor Area agencies, including public-supported agencies. Additional volunteers are also needed for Red Feather agencies, which include Homer Toberman Settlement house, Mahar house CYO, Camp Fire girls, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and numerous other youth agencies supported through gifts to the Community Chest, according to Mrs. Stanton Swafford, chairman of the Harbor Area Volunteer Bureau committee.

sales tax revenue at $112,000. Anti-city forces place the figure at $89,600; business licenses—pro-city, $12,500, anti-city, $8000; building permits—pro-city, $10,000, anti-city, no net revenue, salaries and expenses extinguish receipts; liquor fees—pro-city, $9000, anti-city, $4080. Regarding general property tax, the county report states: "Incorporated cities have the authority to levy taxes on real and personal property. The limit of this levy is set by statute for general law cities (6th class) at $1 per $100 of assessed valuation. Many cities have a total tax rate exceeding one dollar as a result of taking advantage of special statutes which authorize specific additional levies for such purposes as recreation, libraries, parks and other specific purposes. . . . On the average, California cities obtain 40 per cent of their income from the property tax." Pro-city forces state that it will not be necessary to levy a property tax while anti-incorporation forces say that it will be levied once Lomita property tax.

being serviced by two police cars at present. On this basis, police protection would cost $138,288. Pro-incorporationists estimated cost of police protection at $90,000. Regarding other controversial issues the county had the following to say. It made no estimate regarding total potential revenues. Pro-city forces placed the figure placed it at $216,987. Pro-city forces maintain the city will have $43,940 surplus while anti-city forces indicate that the city would be $95,514 in the hole. The county says nothing on this score. Differences in these figures are largely the result of differed estimates made by both sides regarding income from business licenses, building permits, city sales tax, and liquor license fees. The county is mum on these points, simply stating "no estimate." Pro-city forces estimate the
